AN EDITOR

"An editor, like an educator, deals in information, ideas and issues. His commodities are those of the mind. He never can be sure whether the message gets through or know how his words and ideas may influence an individual or an institution. He can only hope that what he puts in print will have impact, when and where he may never learn.

A good editor is expected to enlighten and stimulate. Authoritative, well-written articles and provocative editorial comment are his stock in trade. He must know not only what is current today, but have a pretty good idea of what will be crucial tomorrow or next year. He must be prepared to probe in dept the issues which have yet to be posed.

An editor will tap important people—authors, statesmen, jurists and others—to give of their experience and maturity to the pages of the publication. He will find and nurture the talents of unrecognized writers who have things fresh and exciting to say. He will polish and present the best he can find or fashion.

An editor who is dedicated to his craft and imbued with the ideals of his calling will do more. He will seek to make clear the social issues of the day, to give insight into their meaning and implications. A good editor with good judgment can subtly show the way and inspire others to constructive action."*

With these goals in mind I am trying my best to be a good editor.

American Legion Group Honors William Bigby

WILLIAM A. BIGBY, JR., left, accepts the Post 4 American Legion Citizen of the Year Award plaque from Scott Wood.

William A. Bigby, a retired employee of the Fresno office of the state Board of Equalization, has been named as American Legion Post 4's Citizen of the Year.

The award was made during the Post 4 observance of its 50th anniversary and an annual civic dinner in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Bigby was selected "because of his long service to the community and the American Legion."

He is a 33rd degree Mason and is a past commander in chief of the Fresno consistory of the Prince Hall Order of Free and Accepted Masons; served eight terms as president of the State Center Post 511, American Legion, and is one of the first directors of the Valley Children's Hospital and of the old Fresno Children's Museum. He served on the citizens committee which first sought to establish the Fresno County and City Housing Authority.

Bigby has been active as a trustee of the United Givers Plan (now United Crusade), Fresno District American Red Cross, the Boys Club of Fresno and the Fresno Citizens Committee for Community Improvement.

He has served as the state Legion chaplain and on many committees at the Legion state level.

A native of Colusa, Bigby came to Fresno when he was 7 years old and was graduated from Fresno High School in 1912. His service in the Army during World War I included 14 months in Europe.

Lee Evans

Olympic gold medalist and premier quarter-miler Lee Evans will become a track coach June 9.

Evans, 24, was named assistant track coach by new head coach Ernie Bullard at San Jose State.

Evans is expected to retire from competition after the California Relays at Modesto, Calif., May 23. He graduated from San Jose State last year.

Evans and sprinter John Carlos led the Spartans to their only NC-AA championship.

Evans holds the world 400-meter mark at 43.8 seconds set while winning the gold medal at the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City. He also anchored the winning U. S. 1,600-meter relay team at the Olympics to a world record time of 2:56.1.

A counselor at Silver Creek High School, Evans plans to begin study at Stanford in June for an M.A. degree in physical education.

While living in West Fresno Evans was a student at Central High School. During an interview in Fresno Evans said that he enjoyed coming to Fresno but because of his track schedule he had very little time to visit.

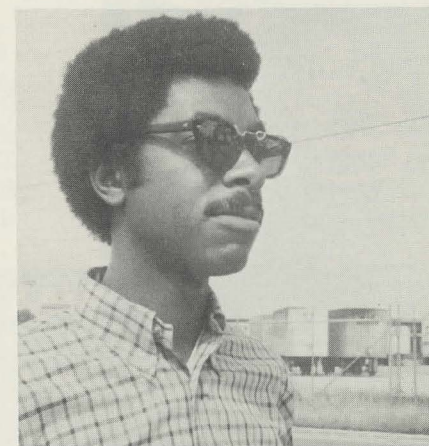

Court Frees Dr. Toney In FSC Incident

False imprisonment and disturbing the peace charges against Dr. Joe Toney, stemming from the March 19 detention of the acting dean of arts and sciences in a Fresno State College conference room, were dismissed at the request of the district attorney's office.

The dismissal, by Municipal Judge George Hopper, was requested on grounds of lack of evidence and in the interest of justice.

Toney was charged along with five FSC students with violating Philip N. Walker's personal liberty and with disturbing the peace.

"Although the evidence showed Dr. Toney was present in the room at the time of the alleged detainment, our investigation revealed he was not actively involved, and further, he was not present in a capacity that would indicate any leadership role despite some evidence to the contrary," Dist. Atty. William C. Daly said.

Mrs. Gloria Smith
FCNW President

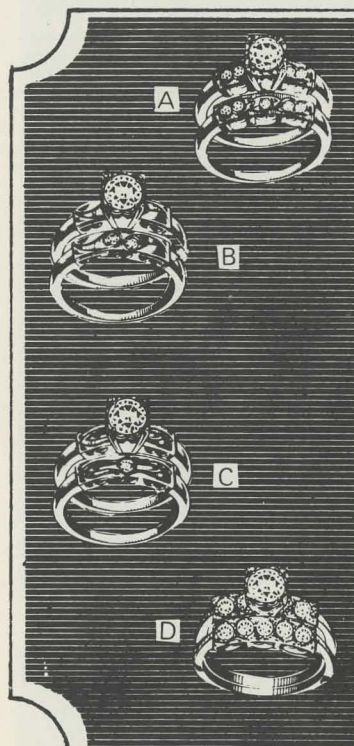

A "Night in New Orleans" was the theme for the soul food dinner-dance of the Fresno Council of Negro Women. Over 300 people, black and white, attended the dinner which was planned by Mrs. Sarah Smith, dinner chairman, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Edward Mosley.

The event was held in the beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. Noel Smith. The soul food was enjoyed by all. The barbecued spareribs were prepared by Dr. Edward Mosby Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Mosley. The fried chicken, cornbread muffins and pan cornbread were prepared by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Mosley. Mrs. Laura Morse contributed piles of hot-water cornbread. The candied sweet potatoes were the specialty of Mrs. Feltus Sterling, and the pigs feet and chittlins were prepared by Mrs. Roy Woods. Mrs. Hugh Goodwin made cakes for the dinner dessert. Mrs. George Crunk, Sr., who has contributed much of her time to volunteer work, was one of the many helpers serving the guests.

Everyone who attended appeared to have had an enjoyable evening.

Bustamante

Cruz "Buz" Bustamante needs no introduction to most of the voters in District 1. Married, and the father of six active youngsters, he is a familiar figure to the citizens of San Joaquin where he serves as a City Councilman. This soft spoken gentleman in his late 30's has given literally thousands of hours of his time to community projects. His main objective in running for office is "to take the politics out of politics," to represent his constituents on a warm, personal, people-to-people level. As he works each day in his own barber shop he takes time to discuss areas of concern with his patrons. Fellow San Joaquin City Councilmen, fellow members of the San Joaquin Community Service Organization, persons associated with the War on Poverty Program or the Mexican-American political Organization. He also finds time to act as an advisor to boys on one of the baseball teams or the Karate Club he helped organize. PEOPLE are his biggest concern and his desire to be of service to them in the most effective manner possible has lead him to seek the position of Supervisor of District 1. For sensitive, responsive representation, Vote for Cruz "Buz" Bustamante. He understands PEOPLE, not politics, and he has YOUR interests at heart.

In Business To Help

Mrs. Lillie P. Barfield

The Barfield's Janitorial Service was founded by Mr. Jessie Barfield in 1950. After his death in 1962, his wife, Mrs. Lillie P. Barfield, took over the business knowing little about it. With the help of some janitor friends Mrs. Barfield has been able to operate the business successfully for more than eight years.

To help her, she keeps two employees, usually an adult and a school student. She states, "I have kept many local and out of state students in my home and have given them jobs to help finance their education. Most of these young men have received their B.A. degrees and I know of two who have received their Master's degree. My business is not a white collar job but it is an honest living and I have enjoyed it. It has always been my policy to try to help and make others happy."

In addition to helping others in her business Mrs. Barfield has given volunteer help to the "City of Hope," Heart and Cancer Funds. She is very active in local church and civic organizations which includes "The Between Ourselves Club" and the "Most Ancient Matron of Jericho."

Mrs. Barfield and her late husband graduated from Washington High School together in El Dorado, Arkansas and both attended Arkansas State College in Pine Bluff, Ark. While in high school Mrs. Barfield was her class salutatorian and won a scholarship to Knoxville College in Tenn. Her husband was the senior class president of the same class.

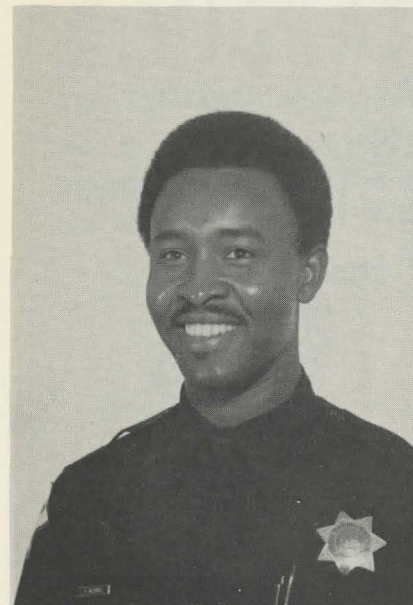

Both of Mrs. Barfield's sons, Arthur and Tommy, have their college degrees. They were very active in local community affairs before they moved to the Bay Area in Northern California. For several years Tommy was a board member of the Fresno Redevelopment Agency. He later resigned the position to accept his present position.

Mrs. Barfield states, "As I have said my business is to help young people as well as myself. Since this is true I would like to leave this Chinese proverb with you:"

If you are planted for a year
Plant a grain;
If you are planted for a decade

McDaniels Is Promoted To Sergeant

L. H. McDaniels

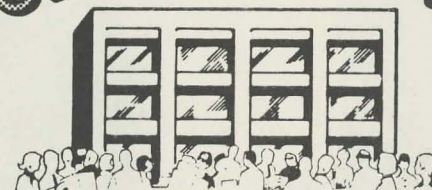

L. H. McDaniels recently became the second Black sergeant in the Fresno Police Department. His appointment came only months after Sgt. Jack Kelly, the first Black sergeant, was appointed.

McDaniel holds a B.A. degree in criminology from Fresno State College. He has been with the police department since 1962 and had been working in the juvenile bureau as a school resource officer at the Irwin Junior High School in West Fresno.

For many years McDaniel has worked with minority children in various baseball and youth employment programs. He is a native of Selma, California, and resides in Fresno with his wife, Janice, and their three daughters.

Dr. Wilson Riles

Editorial From
The Fresno Bee

Riles: The Issue Is Max Rafferty

"The issue is Max Rafferty."

Rarely has more been said politically in fewer words than this assertion by Dr. Wilson Riles, a candidate to replace Rafferty as state superintendent of public instruction.

Riles is a Negro educator who, by the accounts of those closely involved, almost singlehandedly made California's compensatory school program for disadvantaged youngsters a model for the nation. He was picked by President Richard Nixon to head the important 1969 presidential commission on education, a task force which dug diligently into the causes of deteriorating schools and came up with sound, practical recommendations for improvement. He presently is deputy state superintendent of public instruction.

When Riles says Rafferty is the issue he compasses in a single stroke fundamental failures in California's school systems over recent years. He goes to the heart of the matter thus: Rafferty in eight years has failed to offer a single constructive program for solving the schools' pressing financial burdens, has ignored the inequalities which afflict less advantaged districts and has given no leadership for needed coordination of educational programs.

Riles would take bold action in meeting the financial crisis. He says the state, under a graduated program, should assume at least half the financial burden of the schools. This should be done, he says, in a way which would equalize financial disparities between districts so that "no child should suffer because he happens to live in one place in the state instead of another."

Important to this, he adds, is the necessity for a system of cost accountability, of cost effectiveness, so that schools could measure realistically what they are getting for their money in terms of educational quality and student performance.

Without such a system, says Riles, schools flounder in a growing morass of educational fits and starts with the net result being the lack of quality education for children and demoralization of teachers.

Riles has indicated in every utterance his grasp of the overriding problems confronting California schools. This is what Rafferty has failed to display, and it is why he should be replaced by the voters next month.

How To Raise A Juvenile Delinquent

1. Begin at infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to believe the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad words laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute.
3. Never give him any spiritual training. Wait until he is 21 and then let him decide for himself.
4. Pick up everything he leaves lying around — books, shoes, clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing all responsibility on others.
5. Quarrel frequently in his presence. In this way he will not be too shocked when the home is broken later.
6. Give a child all the spending money he wants. Never let him earn his own. Why should he have things as tough as you had them?
7. Satisfy his every craving for food, drink and comfort. Denial may lead to harmful frustrations.
8. Take his part against neighbors, teachers, policemen. They are all prejudiced against your child.
9. When he gets into real trouble, apologize for yourself by saying: I never could do anything with him.
10. Prepare for a life of grief. You are bound to have it. And how!

Maturity

Maturity is the ability to control anger and settle differences without violence or destruction.

Maturity is patience, the willingness to pass up immediate pleasure in favor of the long-term gain.

Maturity is perseverance, the ability to sweat out a project or a situation in spite of opposition and discouraging set backs.

Maturity is unselfishness — responding to the needs of others, often at the expense of one's own desires or wishes.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness and frustration, discomfort and defeat, without complaint or collapse.

Maturity is humility. It is being big enough to say, "I was wrong." And, when right, the mature person need not say, "I told you so."

Maturity is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. The immature spend their lives exploring endless possibilities, then do nothing.

Maturity means dependability, keeping one's word, coming through in the crisis. The immature are masters of the alibi — confused and disorganized. Their lives are a maze of broken promises, former friends, unfinished business and good intentions which never materialize.

Maturity is the art of living in peace with that which we cannot change.

Williams Best All Around Track Athlete

Randy Williams, a junior at Edison High School, is the best all around track athlete in the Valley and maybe the state. He leads the valley in the longjump with 25 feet. He recently broke the national triplejump record with a leap of 50'11 $\frac{3}{4}$ " but lost the title a week later to another Fresnan, David Tucker (below).

Randy has run the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds and the 440 yard dash in 49.5 second. He also anchors Edison's record setting (41.9) 440 yard relay team.

Tucker Breaks National Triplejump Record

David Tucker, a junior at San Joaquin Memorial High School, recaptured his national prep triple jump record with a 52'-6 $\frac{1}{4}$ " performance at the Kern Relays in Bakersfield's Memorial Stadium.

He recently had lost the record to a friend and former junior high classmate, Randy Williams of Edison High School who had gone 50'-11 $\frac{3}{4}$ ", ten and one-fourth inches past Tucker's old record. Tucker is also an excellent long jumper having a best this season of 23' $\frac{1}{2}$ ". He has had foul jumps of 24'7" and 24'6".

CESAR CHAVEZ

there were no provisions for sick leave or unemployment?

If your answer is yes to the above questions then you may very well agree with and understand what Cesar Chavez and his followers are trying to do to help the poor farm workers. The people who do not understand the hardships of the farm workers probably will not agree.

Through the leadership of Chavez history is being made. He has used the grape boycott and strikes to get the farm workers decent working conditions. Many people may disagree with his method, but the fact is that no one else in the past has come up with anything better.

The average working man today earns the highest salary ever, with annual vacation and sick leave. He also usually receives unemployment benefits, annual salary raises, and free hospitalization and health benefits. Up until recently the farm worker had none of these benefits. The change has come about mainly through the efforts of Mr. Chavez and his dedicated followers.

There is no doubt in many people's minds that Cesar Chavez will one day go down into our history books as one of America's greatest leaders of poor people.

Interdependence Of All Living Things

Nature, when in balance, is a wonderful thing, but when out of balance, havoc results. Listed below are three short examples of what you could use to show this interdependence and why man must use care not to upset that balance.

DUCKS AND SKUNKS:

Since skunks were known to eat duck eggs, some duck hunters proceeded to kill all the skunks in the area. The next duck hunting season they noticed there were even less ducks than before. Why? Skunks also eat the eggs of turtles, which, in turn, eat young ducklings. Needless to say, the hunters saw that skunks were brought back and left alone.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER AND GEORGIA RATTLESNAKES

President Eisenhower was fond of quail hunting. Some friends of his in Georgia knew this and decided if they killed or trapped all the fox on the hunting preserve where Ike hunted there would be more quail for Ike to shoot since foxes eat quail. All the foxes were removed from the area and there were more quail for Ike to shoot. But with almost every step, he would see or hear a rattlesnake. The rattlesnake population, having more food (quail) to eat had doubled, so now it was too dangerous for a man to hunt in the area.

CHINESE POPULATION ORDERED TO KILL BIRDS:

A Chinese official noticed that birds were eating lots of grain, so he ordered everyone to kill the birds. After the birds were killed, there was even less grain and fruit. Reason: insects not eaten by the birds reproduced rapidly and ate the fruit and grains.

EVERYTHING HAS ITS PLACE IN NATURE . . . even "pests" and "creepy crawlies!"

So it is impossible in the community of nature to distinguish friend from foe, beneficial animal from injurious one. Every creature has its part in nature's balance, upon which the survival of man depends.

PEDEN ENDORSED BY BLACK MAYOR

CITY OF GLASGOW
KENTUCKY

April 20, 1970

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I take this opportunity to say a word concerning the candidacy of Ewell Peden for District Assemblyman of Fresno, California. I have known Mr. Peden and his entire family background all of his life and I do not hesitate to say that he belongs to the true "American pioneer spirit type of man that has made America great; the type of man sorely needed in times like these." Any community would do well to elect such a man to represent them. Ewell Peden possess the high quality of loyalty and devotion to duty that every elected official should possess. He is the type of man that does not forget his constituency after election, as so many politicians do. His seeking the office is a sincere desire to improve the lot of the people. That is a quality possessed by his heritage through many generations. I do not know any other candidate that might be seeking this office, but I am confident, without a shadow of a doubt, that no other candidate will be more devoted to the interests of the people and community than he. Fresno would do well to elect this active, progressive, gentleman. I am honored to be classed among his friends and acquaintances. I sincerely endorse Ewell Peden.
